TEN CENTS PER WEEK

FRANK McMANUS ASSASSINATED BY AMBUSHED ENEMY

Mysterious Murder Committed While Victim Was Seated on His Porch.

Died Before He Had Chance to Tell of it.

NEIGHBORS SAW MAN RUNNING.

A knock upon the front door and her husband's reassuring voice, then a shot, so close to the house it jarred her ears, and a scream. Then a second shot and a sickening thump as a body fell upon the doorstep.

That was what Mrs. Frank McManus, of 1811 South Sixth street, heard last night.

Before she could open the door a gentle hand detained her and led her back to her room, while kindly neighbors picked up the prostrate form of her husband, that was huddled in a pool of blood upon the doorstep, and carried it to a bed.

Neighbors saw the assassin running from the ambush, and that is all anybody knows of the mysterious murder of Frank McManus last night.

With absolutely no clue to work upon, the police department and detectives of Paducah are up against one of the most baffling crimes ever committed here.

Frank McManus, 32 years old, a brewery worker, was assassinated from ambush on the threshold of his residence, 811 South Sixth street, at 10 o'clock last night.

McManus, who was six feet tall and an almost physical type of manhood, had just returned home after a hard day's work. He carried a satchel for breakfast in his hand and just as he knocked on the "L" door entrance a shot rang out and he was struck in the left elbow. He yelled murder and hardly before the word left his mouth the second and fatal shot was fired by the unknown assassin, who was concealed behind the vines at the south end of the porch.

McManus fell to the porch with a groan and the murderer darted out the gate, walking rapidly to Jones street, where he turned west and disappeared. The fatal bullet entered in the left side at the lower rib, running upward close to the heart and into the right lung.

Neighbors had rushed to him by this time, but after being taken into his home he expired in 30 minutes, despite the heroic work of Dr. Horace Hivers to save him.

An alarm was sent to police headquarters and Police Sergeant Lige Cross hurried to the scene from police headquarters. Patrolman Benvers followed five minutes later. Chief of Police Henry Singery went to the scene, but in spite of a careful search around the spot where the assassin had concealed himself, no clue was found.

Not the slightest sign of a clue has been found and the murder is even more mysterious in face of the fact that McManus was not known to have an enemy, and was a peaceable neighbor and law-abiding citizen. Who could have fired the shot or what motive there was for it are two questions that the officials of Paducah are expending every effort to answer.

Might Have Killed Wife.
The murderer had laid in wait and was ready when McManus stepped up to his door. Mrs. McManus is in a delicate condition and when he knocked last night she arose from her bed and started for the door. She was startled by the shot. Mrs. Josie Hrecoel, who was staying with her, rushed to her and prevented her from going out.

LAFOLETTE IS AT SANITARIUM

WISCONSIN SENATOR'S CONDITION SAID TO BE CRITICAL.

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 30.—Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, is believed to be in a critical condition. It is expected he will undergo an operation this afternoon by the Mayo brothers. Two days ago the senator announced a postponement of his consultation with the Mayo brothers, owing to improvement in his health. He left Madison hurriedly last night, arriving here this morning and went immediately to the Kahler Sanitarium.

"Paducah Day" at McCracken Fair is Record Breaker For Attendance; Business Houses Keep a Holiday

Merchants Who Were Thoughtful Enough to Secure Booths Jubilant; Others Regret they Did Not Foresee Crowds.

FOR SATURDAY.
(Traveling Men's Day—Farmers' Day—House Show Day).
Forecast—Fair weather.
9 a. m. Gates will open.
10 a. m. to 12. Band concert.
10:30 a. m. to 12 n. m. Judging of saddle horses and rigs.
2 to 5 p. m. Races.
5:30 p. m. Fair will close.

"Paducah Day," today, broke all records for attendance at the big Tri-State fair at the West End fair grounds. The largest morning crowd since the fair opened, was present this morning, while this afternoon between 5,000 and 7,000 people, and maybe more, are on the grounds. There is every form of attraction and in no way are amusements lacking.

Today is cold day and farmers' day also. However, the largest Paducah crowd of the fair is present. All of the stores in the city closed at noon today at the request of the Paducah Fair association and this afternoon everybody turned out for a good time.

Judging the costs and hogs was completed this morning. The results will be compiled as soon as possible. Secretary Rodney C. Davis has been heard over heels in work and is unable to give out the names of the winners in the ladies' fancy work etc., the farm products and the beef cattle, which made up part of yesterday's program.

That the grandstand will accommodate as many people in Floral Hall as it will in the top has been demonstrated. It is almost an impossibility to go through Floral Hall in less than five minutes. The displays are interesting and the decorations in the booths are eye-takers. One of the features in the displays is the floral exhibit of Mr. Noble at the west end of the hall. The rest-room at the extreme east end of the hall has proved its worth during the fair. It is a handsomely furnished and every comfort for ladies has been incorporated in its furnishings. As the awards have been made for the ladies' exhibits, naturally the crowd will remain longer to see the prize winners. It was a difficult proposition to judge the cakes and pies, etc.

Wish They Had Booths.
Those merchants, who did not get booths for the fair, are sorry. They have told the directors so and said that next year they could count on them. If this is the case there will be lively competition for the booths and more room will have to be provided. Those who have booths are jubilant over the big advertising agencies. Mr. Raymond Scoville, a representative of the Mithraph company, of Cleveland, O., is demonstrating the wonder-working machine for the Leake Printing company in its booth. Mr. Vnn Pragg and his assistants in charge of the booth of Livingston Brothers, is winning much favor with the crowds. Every firm that has a booth is pleased and the displays are pleasing the people.

The display of Mr. Saunders Fowler is attracting attention. There are all kinds of utensils for handling

Estimate of Crowd Yesterday 15,000

All the hotels and boarding houses were crowded to overflowing last night with visitors to the fair and crowds. The S. R. O. sign went out early after 8 a. m. had been placed in balls, and the late arrivals had anything but an easy time finding an opportune place to sleep. It was the largest crowd in Paducah yesterday in the history of the city. Despite the fact that a large number of visitors returned to their homes on the evening trains, the hotels and boarding houses were inadequate to supply the demand. The restaurants were also crowded throughout the day.

Long before midnight every room in the Palmer House, Belvedere,

MR. MANN COMING.
Mr. Joseph L. Friedman received a telegram this morning from Louis Mann, that he will be in Paducah Monday night to see Miss Clara Lipman, his wife, in "The Marriage of a Star." Mr. Mann is well remembered here as the star in "The Man Who Stood Still." This will be the first time Mr. Mann has seen his wife in her new play. Both Mr. Mann and Miss Lipman will be the recipients of social attention during their short stay in the city.

Five Hundred Dollars For The Murderer

Five hundred dollars reward is offered by the city of Paducah for the apprehension of the murderer of Frank McManus last night. Mayor Smith, City Solicitor Campbell and the finance committee of the general council met this morning and decided to offer the reward. The committee authorized Mayor Smith to buy a pack of bloodhounds. He is going to Chicago tomorrow and will buy them on his trip.

Will Answer Charge of Murdering Kellner Girl.
Louisville, Ky., Sept. 30.—The only person under indictment by the Jefferson county grand jury to be arraigned on the first day of the fall term of the Jefferson circuit court, which is next Monday, is Joseph Wendling, charged with the murder of Alma Kellner. The indictment was returned on June 20 last.

TRAIN STOPS.

For the accommodation of fair visitors the railroad division train going out at 6:15 p. m. will stop at Eleventh and Broadway this evening and tomorrow evening.

Estimate of Crowd Yesterday 15,000

New Richmond, Craig and St. Nicholas hotels was engaged. It was the first time in several years that the weary visitor found it difficult to secure a room if he had the price. The private boarding houses accommodated hundreds of visitors. It is conservatively estimated that the number of visitors in Paducah yesterday was between 10,000 and 12,000. Today there is a large crowd in the city, but it did not equal the number of visitors yesterday.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS IS TO BE APPOINTED

Mayor Smith will appoint a new board of supervisors sometime between now and the first of January. The terms of the present board expire December 31, and the mayor will announce his appointments before that time. The board is composed of Messrs. George Emory, James Glasgow and Ed G. Boone.

ATTEMPT TO BLOW POTTER PALMER'S HOUSE SUSPECTED

Man, With Bomb, Found Hiding Under Porch of Residence Last Night

Admits He Made it, But Gives No Explanation.

HE IS THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30.—What is believed to have been an attempt to blow up the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer was frustrated by the police last night, but not made public until this morning. Fred Wahlinger, 26 years old, a German, was arrested under the porch of the Potter residence, where he had crawled on hands and knees from the street gate. In the grass near him was found a gas pipe bomb, filled with amokless powder and with a fuse attached. Wahlinger admits he made the bomb. His actions indicate mental derangement.

TAMMANY RULES N. Y. DEMOCRATIC STATE MEETING

Controls Large Majority of Votes in Choice for Governor Today.

Boss Murphy Will Name the Candidate.

ALTON B. PARKER'S SPEECH.

Rochester, Sept. 30.—The session of the Democratic convention was a brief intermission in the serious business that has brought together here delegates of 61 counties of New York state.

The convention came to order at 1:07 p. m., perfected temporary organization, listened to an arraignment by Chairman Alton B. Parker, of the Republican administration in general and the political ascendancy of Roosevelt, at Saratoga, in particular, and then adjourned to wait on the judgment of the leaders. Chas. F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, controls the situation. Out of 450 delegates he controls more than 200. The upstate leaders recognized the hopelessness of any coalition strong enough to oppose him with any success.

Except for the address of Parker the opening session was purely routine.

It is stated the platform will provide for state-wide primaries but with no specific plan; direct nomination of United States senators; uniform taxation; employers' liability plank, and an income tax.

The platform will contain an attack upon Roosevelt for his arraignment of the supreme court.

It is reported that Alton B. Parker is being considered as a candidate for governor.

"Under the wrongful combination of machine politics and trafficked trusts, corporations and individuals, the interests of the Republican political machine have taken first place and those of the people the second place. Hence the cost of government, federal and state, has grown with startling rapidity. It is but a little while since the people were startled with a billion dollar congress. Now we have a two billion dollar congress. President Arthur vetoed a river and harbor appropriation bill of about eighteen millions. President Taft signed one for fifty-two millions. It is popularly known as the 'Pork Bill.' The president hopes that congress will stop making it a pork bill, but his party in congress stout his advice and—well, he signs it under protest. But his signature answers the purpose of this porkstate. Hence the annual cost of operation increases by leaps that have no bounds.

"With the close of Governor Fowler's administration, December 31st, 1894, the Democratic party passed from power. Never since has it elected either a majority of the legislature or a governor. Then the general expenses of the state were $15,713,578.20. This year they were $39,101,224.26, after the governor had disapproved items aggregating $4,713,747.67.

"We see then that after more than a century of statehood the cost of administration was something over fifteen millions, but fifteen years of exclusive Republican administration nearly doubled the cost. It is not surprising that the governor in his message to the special session of the legislature sharply pointed out that the state is rapidly drifting upon financial rocks from which it can be rescued only by direct taxation. Indeed, the situation on its face demands retrenchment and reform of the Tilden variety.

"The millions wasted are beyond recall, but the feature is within the control of the people. They can command, if they will, a halt place making to machine construction.

B. AND B. FROM JOPPA.

BRAND NEW MOTOR BOAT.
Captain James Brownlark, Jr., arrived from Joppa this morning in his brand new motor boat, the "B. & B." which was built at a cost of nearly $400. The boat was built at Joppa by Captains Brownlark and Roy Broadfoot, pilot on the towboat Condon, and is named for her owners. She is 28 feet in length and 4 feet over all. With a 12-horse power motor she made the trip from Metropolis to Paducah, 10 miles, in exactly one hour. Her owners expect to develop 12 miles per hour upstream within a few weeks after the newness of her machinery is worn off. She will be used this winter for duck hunting and will be finely equipped.

Football Season Opens in the East.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 30.—In the opening game of the football season at Yale field, Yale defeated Wesleyan by a score of 22 to 0. Both teams showed lack of knowledge of new football, while versatility plays with frequent use of the forward pass and kicking made the contest exciting. Each side was frequently penalized and but very few line plays were tried. A failure on Wesleyan's part of the use of the forward pass gave Corey the ball and he ran 95 yards for Yale's third touchdown. The officials had few questions to decide.

The new game showed the great opportunities for open play and the chances for consistent ground gaining with the perfection of the forward pass. That a heavy line will be of as much importance this year as previously was shown by the frequent gains made by Yale through Wesleyan's center after big holes had been opened up. The game also demonstrated that a fast, light team with the use of the forward pass and the punt will have a much better chance of gaining ground against a heavier team than heretofore. The danger of injury also seems to have been lessened and the allowing of an injured player to return at the opening of a new quarter will allow a team to maintain its initial strength throughout the game.

Pennsylvania Team Wins.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—The University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Dickinson college by the score of 18 to 0. The Pennsylvania played 50 per cent better football than against Ursinus. The end runs and forward passes were very effective.

Hutchinson, who was not in the line-up last Saturday, was a tower of strength in the back field, scoring the first touchdown by a plunge through tackle and making the second score for Pennsylvania possible by a forward pass.

Paul Brown, left guard of Dickinson's team, was injured in the first period of the Pennsylvania-Dickinson game. After examination at the University hospital it was found that his left shoulder blade was fractured and that he would have to remain in the hospital for several days.

Harvard Beats Bates.

Cambridge, Mass., Sept. 30.—Harvard opened the football season by defeating Bates 22 to 0, in a fast, spectacular game. The new rules worked well. Long end plays and forward passes were well executed and there were some fine dashes through open fields. All the scores were made on touchdowns, from which two goals were kicked.

GRIDIRON SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

COLLEGES OF ALL SIZES HAVE GAMES BOOKED.

Sewanee, Vandy and Tennessee Make Debut—On Eastern Eleven.

Field generals in the various Southern football camps, who have had their old warriors and prospective rookies alike hustling through practice maneuvers and formulating tentative formations since the first call for candidates, will line their forces up, some for the first time this season, against rival eleven Saturday. With the exception of Louisiana, none of the Southern gridiron circles will all start forth to test further their prowess and the effectiveness of their revolutionists' latest shot toward "humanizing" the game.

Tennessee's three big eleven—Sewanee, Vanderbilt and Tennessee—open the 1910 grid Saturday in games unimportant in the nature of championship, but interesting in the fact that it is the teams' first appearance and therefore the initial opportunity to see what the Southern coaches are doing with new editors. Vandy will not meet Southwestern Presbyterian university, as was scheduled. S. W. P. U. decided at the last moment that her eleven was in no shape to cope with McGugin's warriors, so the game was called off. Mooney will be tackled instead. The reappearance of Oscar Noel in moteskin apparently settles the fullback argument, and with Neely, Morrison and Williams, probably rounds out Commodore's back field for the 1910 season. The line is giving Coach McGugin cause for worry. Tackle Griffin will not be in the line-up until November, and probably not at all. November will also be the earliest date upon which Allen Brown will be allowed to don the warpaint.

Eastern Eleven Start.

Up the country no games of importance are tabbed for Saturday. Yale is down for probably the hardest tilt, being scheduled to meet Syracuse at New Haven; Harvard meets Bates, and Princeton opens the season with Stevens Institute. The army and navy squads make their bow, as do Cornell, Dartmouth and Brown. Pennsy, who has been making the efforts of the revolutionists over the coals since their defeat at the hands of Ursinus last Saturday, meets Gettysburg at Philadelphia.

On the local gridiron University school starts its fall grid with the Nightriders, representing the Union City Training school, from Union City. Coach Denney has a large though light crew at work, but expects to give the fade from the night riding district all they care to handle in the new style of play, which Coach Denney is using to its utmost advantage.

INEVITABLE THREE.

Strange Rule That Brings So Many Tidings in Tris.

The number three is very common, and rightly so. It is to be counted on, and one likes to know that it is so general a rule. When the third catastrophe has occurred there will not be any more for a while. When the ball has done a thing once they will do it two more times. If one enjoys it the first time, there is a satisfied settling back to take in at one's leisure the rest. If one line disliked it, one has at the end learned to bear it. Either the becoming accustomed to it or getting one's desired reptition has its advantages. People, if they sparsely say it once. They say, above all in novels, yes, yes, or no, no, no. At the third repetition you have come to agree with them, believe in their sincerity, or else by the magic charm of three, been not so shocked by their third yes as by their first.

If they had only said it once you would have been obliged to argue and uphold them, but by the time the third yes has ceased ringing in your ears, habit and familiarity have made you feel that perhaps it is not an astounding admission after all. It let you down easily, by neatly graduated tones from your pinnacle of disagreement. You descend as on steps and the last lands you at your own door, from which vantage point you can comfortably say: "Perhaps she does not think me a coward after all. Anyway, the last time she said it much more faintly than she did the first, as though she had already begun to change her mind." And because at the last surprise and unexpectedness were no

How She Keeps Her Baby Healthy—Test Free

An easy way for any mother to raise sturdy children

So far back as the memory of man goes every mother has had her own peculiar ideas about how to keep her children healthy. But women are getting to agree on the main point more and more, and that is that it is of first importance to keep the little one's bowels open.

From the bowels comes health or sickness. Unless a child is born diseased it can be kept healthy, and made to grow to vigorous maturity, if the bowels are kept free and pure in infancy and childhood. It is the main point for the mother to look after. The amount of rumbling and playing a child does keeps its bowels moving naturally, but there comes a time when they overeat or eat something that does not agree, and then a laxative is absolutely necessary.

Don't wait until matters get worse—give a laxative at once. What laxative are you going to give? Stewed fruit and things of that kind? No, no, when the child is really constipated. Give a scientific laxative, a formula based on forty years of experience with children. Such a laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of mothers are already giving in these emergencies. It is the mainstay of the children of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis. Mrs. Chas. Daily Thought.

If a man really loves a woman, of course he wouldn't marry her for the world if he were not quite sure he was the best person she could by any possibility marry.—Holmes.

Go to the races this afternoon.

Don't forget to register October 4.

Didn't know Ben Welle and Rod Davis COULD smile that way.

Anybody Gus Singleton can't show a good time has a peevish disposition.

Soon as the bridge is up we'll have this many people here all the time.

Betcha somebody said as soon as they read it, the president's order, placing assistant postmasters under the civil service rules, is a scheme to perpetuate Republicans in office.

When the Kentucky doctors came next year, Paducah will be able to show a town with the best hospital in the state, the best oil streets, mosquito proof streams and a tuberculosis isolation colony.

Metropolis did pretty well yesterday for an extemporaneous manifestation of exuberant feeling. As soon as the bridge is built they can all come over here when they want to celebrate, and do it right.

Mayor Gwynor has attacked the yellow journals and is now afflicted with a parasite that may put him out of the presidential running. Woodrow Wilson has written some books that will hurt him where the Democratic party most needs votes. Nothing much stands between Jindon Harmon and the national Democratic nomination—but a possible Republican majority in Ohio this fall.

WALK RIGHT IN.

The county court clerk of Kentucky are welcome. We are glad to have them in our city; because we know there must be some human quality in every one that appeals to their neighbors. Some times we overlook the virtues of our politicians in a general exhortation of politics; but there is that quality, whatever it may be called, a good quality, a pleasant quality, about every successful politician. There is no key to Paducah, else we would give it to the clerk. Everything here this week is open. Walk right in, sit right down and make yourself at home.

WHAT THEY MEAN.

The initiative doesn't mean that all legislation must be enacted by popular vote; it means that a certain specified per cent of the voters may by petition secure a special election on the question of instructing the legislative department to enact certain laws. The referendum means that the specified per cent of the voting population may by petition secure a special election to pass upon any law enacted by the legislative body. The recall means that at any time a specified per cent of the voting population may by petition re-cure a special election to recall or endorse an official. None of these remedies would ever have to be used, we believe; because, if the people had the right, officials would be giving constant heed to popular demands, be wary of obnoxious laws and careful to perform their duties faithfully.

REVENUE AND RECIPROCITY.

The generality of Champ Clark's keynote speech before the Missouri editors, was a labored effort to please all elements opposed to the present governmental policies, without offending anyone of them; but it is far from statesmanlike and not at all lacking in flagrant inconsistencies. For instance, his first proposition is a reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis; his second for reciprocity treaties with foreign nations, if he reduces the tariff to a revenue basis, he will necessarily ascertain how much revenue is needed and fix the tariff rates so as to return that much revenue, no more or less. If he engages in reciprocity treaties with foreign nations to secure the best possible terms for the admission of our goods to their ports, he will be compelled to fix the American tariff rate according to terms agreed upon with foreign nations, placing them high on articles from one nation as a retaliation for discrimination against our products, and reducing them or abolishing them altogether on goods from another nation, in return for favors shown our products. Now that is just exactly what is being done under the Payne bill, the first tariff, of Democratic or Republican origin, providing for the maximum and minimum schedules, so that the president can treat with foreign nations upon a reciprocity basis.

One of the results of the Payne bill is that American goods are now for the first time admitted into all the European countries on the same basis as the most favored nations, and a reciprocity agreement is pending with Canada, by which closer trade relations between the United States and her neighbor on the north will be secured.

Furthermore, how is Mr. Clark to establish this revenue basis. One hundred and seventy Democrats in the last congress voted for high tariff rates on products manufactured or grown in their districts. We all remember the hideous Wilson-Gorman bill, which Grover Cleveland refused to sign. Whether he favors tariff for revenue only, or whether he favors protecting the American wage scale by a protective tariff measuring the difference between our wage scale and that of foreign competitors, the only way a fair schedule can be secured is by the aid of an expert commission, such as is now working on the rates of the present tariff.

Judge D. G. Park, a prominent Paducah attorney and half brother of Judge William Reed, is an announced candidate for United States senator. Judge Park is no doubt a good man, but he will find after slight investigation that Ollie James is mighty strong with the boys throughout the Penyrhine country, and even awny up the state.—Cadiz Record.

Whose Ox Is Gored.

The old adage "That it makes no difference as to whose ox is gored," still holds good as shown by the loud, long wail of our good friend Hon. Henry Lawrence, who in 1906 was a warm supporter of Governor Beckham and General Bailey, in calling the primary elections for U. S. senator elections months before vance wherein Hon. J. H. McCreary was defeated by Governor Beckham, aided by General Henry Lawrence. Now Henry is in bed with Senator McCreary and is against our home man, the Hon. John K. Hendrick, and he is trying to hold with the bounds and run with the hare by raising a squeal against the action of the committee of the Third senatorial district fixing the date for the convention at Eddyville, November 17, 1910, a year in advance of the final election; but in 1906 General Lawrence raised no such objection, when the primary election for Beckham was called a longer time in advance than this one, about which he makes such a loud, long squeal.—Smithland Banner.

SHARPS AND FLATS.

From the northern shores of Tennessee comes a peculiar tale, tagged with the earmarks of genuineness, yet The Sun wants it distinctly understood that it will not stand sponsor. Smiling, good natured, Big Jim Green of Mayfield, told it in a casual conversation and from his notions and manners one would think that everybody in the United States had heard of it.

In one of the counties of Tennessee bordering on Kentucky there lives a man who has a flock of nervous goats. These goats are like all other goats and keep up with all goat fashions. They wear their whiskers in the same style as other goats, they pick their teeth with their forefeet just like ordinary goats, they eat like ordinary goats, they drink like ordinary goats, they like ordinary goats and walk fences like ordinary goats. The only difference between them and ordinary goats as far as anybody has been able to discover, is their nervous nature. Any sudden shock or loud noise seems to deaden the solar plexus of their nervous energy, so to speak, and they fall like they were shot with their feet in the air. Of course this peculiarity, sometimes brings about an amusing situation. During the third season last year a town friend of the goat man drove out in the country with his dog and gun, one day hunting. He met his goat man says: "Why yes, go right on over to my place and hunt all you want to. There are lots of birds there, but say be careful you don't shoot any of my stock, or I will want you to pay for it." "All right," the town friend replied, "I will be responsible for any damage."

He drove on over, hitched his horse and went in. He did not see any stock except a large flock of goats. About that time his dog made a stand. The birds came up—bang—bang—bang—he had no chance to watch for birds falling for goats were falling all over the field. He knew they were dead, too, for their feet were in the air. A rapid mental calculation warned him that he was out a good big sum of money, so he hiked for his horse and went back to town and for a moment flattered for his goat friend to demand pay for his goats. When he finally found out that they were nervous goats and that they fully recovered from such shocks in a few minutes of time, he felt relieved.

Judge J. F. Gordon lives at Madisonville, Ky., and serves a judicial circuit making the swing round several times per year. The Judge is a fine lawyer and by the way looks up quite large in Democratic politics. He makes a fine speech and tells a story with a whirlwind flash that captures every time. Judge Gordon is not only learned in the law but in many other things. It delights his soul to dig down deep into this new science of farming. You know, the last few years has produced a new type of farmer—a scientific farmer. The different soils from the different fields are analyzed and each field is fed with what it needs. This sort of thing interests the judge very much, and as he owns a very fine farm near Madisonville he takes an especial pride in things agricultural. One morning at the breakfast table his wife said, "Judge Gordon what are you going to do with that field way at the back of the farm that is full of sassafras bushes?" "Huh!" said the judge. "I think I will get me a flock of goats and put in that field. I was reading the other day," and then the judge trailed off with a long charge to his wife about the latest thing he had read about goats for poor fields and the profits accruing.

Not long after this conversation, the judge and his farm hands drove a flock of goats through the front gate and on to the back field on the farm something like a mile and a quarter from the house.

The judge in telling this always takes his feet off of the chair in front of him, and looks like he was about to sentence his auditor to the penitentiary for five years and says, "and do you know, sir, those darn goats met me at the front door of the house when I got back from that field? Yea sir, they did, and how they got there so quickly I do not know."

That settled the goat question for Judge Gordon.

A certain man Mr. A. living out some distance from Paducah lost his wife, in about six weeks after the sad event he married again. In a few days after the happy event he dined one day at the home of one of his old friends, a Mr. B. here in Paducah. Mr. B. rushed him up to the house without previously explaining to Mrs. B. the somewhat unusual marriage experience of their guest. Now imagine the situation and remember that the wife of the host had an inquisitive turn of mind. The dinner was a success and all went lovely until Mrs. B. began to want to find out things. "Oh! Mr. A.," she gurgled, "how long has your first wife been dead?" "Ahem—ahem, that is to say, well sick and dead together about a year, Mrs. B."

BOISE PENROSE IS OPTIMISTIC

HOLDS LONG CONFERENCE WITH PRESIDENT TAFT.

Cabinet Will Decide Upon Maker of Keynote Speech—A Democratic Victory Would Surprise.

Washington, Sept. 30.—President Taft held conference with several political advisers, including Senator Boise Penrose, of Pennsylvania, who dominates the Republican machine in that state, and Representative McKinley, of California; Senator Warner, of Missouri, and Representative Rothermel, of Pennsylvania. Mr. McKinley, who was defeated for renomination by an insurgent, has been touring the country to sound public sentiment and count up exactly how many members the Republicans will elect to the next house of representatives. He talked confidently of a Republican majority, but did not say how big the majority would be.

In the cabinet meeting discussion was had as to the states which will be visited by members of the cabinet who will make "keynote" speeches in the campaign. No announcement was made as to the route marked out for any of the cabinet speakers.

FRANK M MANUS

ventured on opening the door. The second shot followed.

Mrs. Mary Whitley, living the next door south, 817 South Sixth street, was aroused by the first shot and rushed to her front door which faces the McManus porch. She heard McManus cry "murder," and saw the flash of the second shot. She heard McManus fall and saw a strange form dash out of the gate and run towards Jones street. William Stringer, who lives across the street, was the first to reach McManus. Marketmaster Albert Senner, a former patrolman, rushed to the house and with others they carried McManus into his room.

Questions were asked him, but he replied that he did not know who shot him. Suffering great agony he soon lost consciousness, but was alive when Dr. Hirschman reached him.

Native of Marshall County.

McManus, who drove a delivery wagon for the Evansville Brewing company's local office worked late last night on account of the fair and circus. He went direct home after work. Not a worker was better liked than he. He had hosts of friends and was quiet and good natured and never figured in any quarrels. His family and friends cannot remember a single instance where he had made an enemy.

He was born in Marshall county January 5, 1878, and came to Paducah from Benton nine years ago. For the last eight years he had been a driver for the Evansville Brewing company and was a hard worker and trusted employee. He was a member of good standing in the United Brewery Workers of America, Local No. 139, and as a citizen he was esteemed highly by his neighbors.

His wife, Mrs. Reubah McManus, is in a serious condition from the shock. McManus leaves his wife and two children, Avery Jackson, 4 years old, and May Eva, 2 years old. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Arlette McManus, of this city, three sisters and three brothers, who are: Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Walter Taylor, Mrs. Alice Cobb, and Morris. Ollie, Sidney and Roy McManus, all of Paducah.

The House.

The McManus house is "L" shaped and at the south end of the porch are thick vines. A door leads into the house off the north end of the porch and one is directly in front of the steps. The murderer ran through the gate, which was found open by neighbors, rushing to his dying form. Miss Grace Harvey and Messrs. Thomas Miller and Holland Morrison saw a man leave the yard and walk away rapidly. Patrolmen Scott and Hekman noticed a man enter the McManus yard shortly before he arrived, but thought it was either Mr. McManus or some of the family. Philip Hoyer, a lineman for the East Tennessee Telephone company, living at 611 Jones street, saw a man dart around the corner a few minutes after he heard the shot. Hoyer was waiting on his front porch. He said when the man saw him he checked his gait, but walked by briskly. Hoyer did not look to see where he went. He said that the man wore a black or dark soft hat with a low crown and a black coat. He was of medium height and robust looking. Hoyer says positively that the man was white.

One theory that is not given much weight was advanced today. Sam Howell, a former policeman, who was shot June 26, 1907, by a negro, said the fellow was out of prison. It might be that he mistook McManus for him as they resemble each other somewhat. The convict is alleged to have sworn to kill Howell when he got out of prison, but officials say he has not finished his term of five years for malicious shooting.

Market Master Albert Senner, who resides almost opposite the street from the McManus home, heard both the shots. He dressed hurriedly, and was one of the first to reach the side of the dying man, who fell on the porch. To questions of "Who shot you, Frank?" McManus would only say, "Albert, get me a doctor quick."

He never made any statement regarding the shooting. In a few minutes he had lapsed into unconsciousness.

He was carried into the front room and his head placed on a pillow. Dr. Horace Rivers was the first physician to arrive and he probed for the bullet that entered the left side. He lived only a few minutes after Dr. Hirschman reached his side, and did not linger over ten minutes from the time that the shots were fired. One bullet struck him in the left elbow, while the fatal bullet entered the left side about the lower ribs and ranged upward.

All the neighbors were attracted by the firing of the shots and ran to the windows. Several say that they saw a man leave the yard. He walked south on Sixth street at an ordinary gait until he reached Jones street, when he ran west. Other people, residing on Jones street, rushed to the scene of the shooting and say that they met a man. Only a meager description could be given. He wore a suit of dark clothes and wore a black round felt hat. He was a man of medium build and height.

Chief Singery, Sergeant Cross and Patrolmen Scott, Heavner and Hekman made a search around the house, but nothing could be found that would lead to the identity of the assassin.

At the time of his death McManus had $350, mostly in gold coins, hidden in a sock. He was a man that saved his money, and usually carried his savings with him, but a few people only knew of the money. He was quiet and had few words to say, but was popular with the people with whom he came in contact. It is certain that robbery was not

It is presumed that he went directly to his home. Last night he talked with his intimate friends, and did not appear to be worried.

Corner's Verdict.
"We, the jury, being duly empaneled to inquire into the death of Frank McManus, whose body we have viewed, and that he came to his death by a gunshot wound in the hands of some one unknown to this jury, and we further find the killing was done without any provocation.

Witnesses before the jury this morning were Mrs. Grace Miller, Tom Willis, Will Rorer, Albert Senner, Mrs. W. H. Stringer and W. H. Stringer. Mrs. Grace Harvey testified that she saw a man enter the McManus yard prior to McManus' death. She saw the man disappear at the south end of the porch and saw he dashes from the gun. Acting Corner C. W. Pines, said the woman appeared to have been made by bullets fired from a .44-calibre revolver.

WORLD'S RAG BAG

THAT IS WHAT ENGLISH WHITER CALLS ENGLAND.

American Workmen So Much Better Off Than Is No Comparison.

New York, Sept. 30.—Free trade has made England the world's rag bag in the opinion of J. Ellis Parker, a noted English tariff expert and writer upon economic subjects, who is in New York on his visit to the United States to study economics at short range.

"The condition of the American workman is far above that of his British brother," says Mr. Parker. "Owing largely to unemployment and extremely low wages, British workers live from hand to mouth. Very few have any tangible property, while a very large percentage of American workmen have land and houses of their own. Besides, American workmen have nearly $4,000,000 in savings banks, while British workers have only $1,000,000,000."

"The aspect of commercial and industrial England resembles most closely that of the state of New York, but New York state alone has more money in the savings banks than the whole of the United Kingdom, while per head of population there is in the savings banks of Great Britain only $25, as compared with $200 in New York."

"The average wage of all wage earners for full employment in the cotton trade in England is $4.50 a week. In the woolen trade it is $3.50; in the clothing trade about the same, while in the linen trade it is less than $3. Agricultural laborers receive from $2 to $4.50 a week. These are scarcely living wages."

"Free trade England has the proud distinction of being the largest importer of the world, and, curiously enough, the bulk of these come from the three greater protection countries, the United States, Germany and France. Cobden prophesied England would always remain the workshop of the world. Free trade has made her the rag bag of the world, and the rapscallions of the universe rake over dust heaps for rags to sell to free trade Britain to be manufactured into cheap clothes."

Here's a Captain of Industry. And these, according to the examination papers in one room, are what Andrew Carnegie has won and did: Invented the mower and reaper. Member of the president's cabinet. A British spy.

Went over to France to get help for the U. S. Best after-dinner speaker in America.

A steel magnet. Invented wireless telegraphy. General in the Spanish-American war.

Head of the steel trust.—Everybody's Magazine.

At the party Sarah's aunt said to her: "Child, you eat a great deal for a little girl of three."

Sarah replied: "Oh, I'm not so little on the inside, auntie."

Mr. Douglas Bagby, of this city, will be Mr. Foss' best man.

Married Here. Miss Willie Mae Frazer and Mr. J. H. Crain, a popular couple of Ballard county, residing near Blandville, were married yesterday morning by the Rev. D. W. The bride is a niece of Mr. T. J. Stahl, and a popular girl. Mr. Crain is a young farmer.

The new magazine has some live stories, but Miss Stewart's story, "The Law of Compensation," is easily the best. The poem is two stanzas on Henry. Miss Stewart was former teacher of English in the High school and is widely popular here.

LETTER FROM MRS. COOK

ENTIRELY RECOVERED FROM ILLNESS, AND NOW GROWING STRONGER EACH DAY.

Cave Springs, Ga.—"I sleep better than ever," writes Mrs. Kate Cook from this place, "and get stronger every day. Before I tried Cardul, the woman's tonic, I was very sick, and the doctor's medicine did me no good. I can never speak too highly of your medicine."

Sleeplessness and nervousness, from which many women suffer, often make living unendurable.

If you are all this, no need to stay so. Most of the ailments peculiar to women are preventable, curable.

Others have obtained relief by taking Cardul. Why not you?

Cardul is a popular medicine with women. It is popular because it has been found to banish nervousness, relieve pain, bring roses back to pale cheeks, and strength to weak bodies.

Cardul acts specifically on the cause of most female ills, and thus it is a medicine especially useful in women's ailments, in the treatment of which it has a record of over 50 years of success.

At least it can do you no harm, to give Cardul a fair trial.

It may be the very medicine you need. Get a bottle today.

BIG BIRMINGHAM

FASTEST GROWING CITY IN THE UNITED STATES.

Gains 245 Per Cent and Goes From 38,415 to 123,685 in Ten Years.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The greatest surprise of the census reports was that made public today from Birmingham, Ala., which gives the metropolis of that state a population of 123,685, an increase of 245.4 per cent over the last census, when the population was only 38,415.

There are many apparent causes for the phenomenal increase, one of them being the extending of the city boundaries to many of the suburban mining and manufacturing towns.

Another is the influx of people brought to Birmingham by the United States Steel corporation's lavish expenditures in connection with the improvements of the old Tennessee Coal and Iron company properties.

LOOP THE LOOP

JOHNSTONE, WRIGHT BROS.' EX-PERT, PROPOSES FEAT.

At 5,000 Feet in the Air Says He Will Give New Aerial Sensation at Washington.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Johnstone the Wright Brothers' expert aviator, who has shown great daring in manning his aeroplanes, proposes to give Washington a new sensation at the meet to be held here soon, by looping the loop in his machine.

His plan is to reach an altitude of 4,000 or 5,000 feet with a machine with a motor capable of driving her at a speed of seventy miles an hour. When he reaches that height he will shut off the power, throw the front wheels downward, turning the machine a complete somersault. It will be allowed to drop until within a few hundred feet of the earth, when the engines will again be started and the machine righted.

Thomas P. Jackson, special representative for the Wright people, was in Washington yesterday afternoon, and he told about the feat Johnstone will undertake to demonstrate the possibilities of the aeroplane.

Of Two Evils. Mrs. Desmond Humphreys, the English scold divorced by America, according to the Washington Star.

"In England there is only one divorce court—that of London," said "Rita," "but you have here in divorce court in every village, haven't you?"

"Perhaps you have so many divorces because you are too reckless about marriage. I met one American girl on the boat who is certainly going to marry very recklessly, indeed. She said to me, as she twisted her engagement ring nervously:

"Hubert is a rake, and I know he'll lead a double life. But—"

"She smiled grimly.

"But better that," she added, "than for me to lead a single one."

"On what grounds does your father object to me?" he asked.

"On any ground—within a mile of our house," she answered.—Buffalo Express.

His cattle, which captured all prizes under the head of dairy cattle yesterday, are on display.

Mr. Ben Wellie, president of the fair association, is spending all of his time at the fair grounds with Secretary Davis. He is giving everything his personal attention and is more than pleased with the success of the first two days. Mr. Ben Frank, who is looking after the racing end of the program besides the awards of all articles, has no easy job and has performed diligent work. The Ways of Woman. "You insist on doing this?" asked the husband.

"I do!" replied the wife firmly.

"But, my dear—"

"Stop!" she commanded. "Nothing you can say will alter my determination! My mind is made up."

"In that case," replied the husband, who had transmitted the base mental of experience into the precious fold of knowledge, "I have nothing more to say. I realize that once possessed of an idea you are, like all your sex, beyond argument."

"Do you mean," demanded the wife with displeasure, "that I am incapable of seeing reason?"

"Reason with a woman," answered the husband from behind his paper, "is like water on a duck's back, in one ear and out the other."

"You are wrong!" cried the wife triumphantly. "And to prove it, sir, I have already changed my mind!"

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great-grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderful beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulfur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

POPULAR DRIVER MEETS ACCIDENT

F. C. B. THROWS CHARLES TANDY, OF MT. VERNON, IND.

Jockey Disqualified, Who Rode Winner in Running Race Yesterday.

BIG CROWD WITNESS RACES.

THE WINNERS.
First race—(1 mile dash) Four Piece, first; Tonic, second; Silk Sox, third. Time, 1:17.
Second race—(2:20 pace) Addie Wilkes, first; Marjorie Theodora, second; F. C. B., third. Time, 2:18 1/2.
Third race—(2:20 trot) Dignis Frazier, first; Gazette, C., second; May Bond, third. Time, 2:22 1/4.
Fourth race—(5 furlongs) Blister, first; B. M. Rebo, second; De Ora, third. Time, 1:03 1/2.
Fifth race—(1/2 mile dash) Glento, first; Crondit, second; Mayflower, third. Time, 51.

Two events not called for at the races at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon slightly marred the program. Charles Tandy, of Mt. Vernon, Ind., driving F. C. B., in the last lap of the second heat of the 2:20 pace, was seriously injured when his horse turned a complete somersault between the quarter and three-eighths pole. He was shot over his head high in the air with the force of a catapult and struck the turf on his face. His nose was broken and an ugly gash cut over his right eye. F. C. B. was unhurt and finished out the race for third money.

Jockey Disqualified.
In the one mile dash, the first event on the card, Royal Chance won, but was disqualified because Jockey Fogg showed up 3 1/2 pounds light after the finish. Four Piece, running second, was declared the winner, and Tonic, third, got second money. Silk Sox was given third position. Royal Chance had been entered as a gelding, but is a stallion. Jockey Fogg's weight was marked for 122 pounds, but when he mounted the scales after the race he weighed only 119 1/2 pounds. Judges were called and he was disqualified as winner. Eva Tanguay also ran. The race was close and exciting.

Addie Wilkes took three straight heats in the 2:20 pace, which was a close one. The heats:
Addie Wilkes (Walker) . . . 1 1 1
Marjorie Theodora (Redmond) . . . 2 2 2
F. C. B. (Tandy & Campbell) . . . 4 4 4
Dick Patchen (Rudy) . . . 3 3 3
Time, 2:18 1/2; 2:18 1/2 and 2:20.

The 2:20 Trot.
The 2:20 trot was taken easily by Dignis Frazier. She finished second in the second heat, taking the third and fourth. Second money went to Gazette C., who took the second heat, finished second the first and third heats and third the fourth heat. The heats:
Dignis Frazier (Frazier) . . . 1 2 1 1
Gazette C. (McCombs) . . . 2 1 2 3
Margaret Tell (Frazier) . . . 4 4 4 2
May Pond (Odgen) . . . 3 3 3 4
Time, 2:23 1/4; 2:22; 2:24 1/2, and 2:24 1/2.

Blister sniled away in the 5/8 mile dash, the fourth event, winning by a length from B. M. Rebo. De Ora was third and Miss Vnn Dehaden also ran. Time, 1:03 1/2.

The last race was capped by Glento in 51 seconds for the half mile. Crondit finished second, Mayflower third, and Transam also ran. Wadde Lee and Ike Cohen, who were entered, were both sick and unable to start.

Another big crowd was out yesterday, notwithstanding the presence of Ringling Brothers' circus. Today is "Paducah Day" and the largest crowd of the fair is on hand. A good

NEVER HAD ANY ITCHING.

After One Application of Poslam, the New Skin Remedy.

Whenever eczema is present on body, limbs or scalp, the first demand is for something to stop the continual itching. This poslam does. ("Never had any itching after the first application," says Mr. L. J. Brendinger, Philadelphia.)

In the trying the sample of poslam which is mailed free to any one upon request by the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City—it is best to use it on a small surface and compare in the morning with the surrounding skin not so treated, nothing the vast improvement. Miscellaneous.

Gauge at 7 a. m. read 5 feet, indicating a fall of four-tenths of a foot since yesterday morning.

Weather clear and business good.

The shift for the Kentucky arrived yesterday afternoon from Cleveland, O., and is being set in place. The Kentucky will be ready in a few weeks to resume the Paducah and Tennessee river business.

The Harth, in charge of Pilot J. J. Young, did not arrive yesterday from Caseyville, as expected, and is due today with a tow of coal for the West Kentucky Coal company.

The Ohio, Cowling and Robertson did a record business yesterday.

The Cowling made an extra trip here yesterday afternoon, leaving for Metropolis at 6:30 o'clock with crowds from the fair and circus.

The Ohio remained over until dark to accommodate the crowds. All of the three boats are making their regular trips today. The Cowling leaves for Metropolis at 4:30 o'clock and the Ohio for Colocanda at 2 p. m.

The Richardson arrived early yesterday afternoon from the Tennessee with a big crowd of passengers. She went to Brookport and will return here today and receive freight for Waterloo and Tennessee river points, leaving tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock.

The Reuben Dunbar left Evansville at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, many hours late, and was in port today with a good trip.

The John L. Lowry was in today from Evansville, doing a good business.

Cutaway No. 1 went to the Tennessee today after a log raft and delivered it to the Marshall box factory at Metropolis.

Today closes a busy month in river circles, despite the interference of low water. The river fell for 19 days, rose 8 days and was on a stand for 3 days. The lowest stage was September 1 when the gauge read 3.9 feet. The highest stage was attained September 12 when the gauge showed 11.4 feet of water. The river has been falling since then. There were 22 clear days and only 8 cloudy and rainy days during the month.

The Jim Duffy, Jr., will probably get away Monday for the Tennessee river for ties for the Ayer & Lord Tie company.

The towboat W. T. Hardison is to have a new name since she has been rebuilt at Evansville. She will be known hereafter as "Tomahawk."

Tight wads and wolves seem to get along pretty well regardless of opinion.

REMBRANDTS IN AMERICA

MORE PAINTINGS BY DUTCH MASTER HERE THAN IN HOLLAND.

Remarkable Growth in Demand for His Work During Last Fifty Years in This Country.

OUR EIGHTY-EIGHT CANVASES

Evidence is not wanting that the removal of the duty on works by the old masters will result in the permanent enrichment of our store of artistic things. The newspapers are continually announcing, with a rather unfortunate blare of trumpets, the fabulous price paid by some American in Europe for a masterpiece of painting or sculpture, while from our consuls come definite figures showing that the exports from Europe to America of works of art have increased enormously since the old masters were put out of free list.

Among these late importations, the paintings of Rembrandt have a conspicuous place. In the last 50 years his work has been steadily gaining favor with Americans, each succeeding decade showing a vastly increased importation. Today no painting is more sought after by Americans, none more sincerely welcomed.

There are on this side of the Atlantic no fewer than 88 oil paintings, besides some small sketches, by Rembrandt. This means that we have double the number left in Holland, with a score to spare, and two dozen more than all in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Italy, Prussia, Spain and Sweden. Indeed, there are only two countries which possess more than America; Great Britain, which has 165, and Germany, which has 120.

London and Paris remain the great Rembrandt markets, while America has taken her place as the largest buyer. It is significant that 14 of the 16 Rembrandts from the recently sold Kann collection have come to America. Although these came to us from Paris, a full half of all our Rembrandts hung for generations in the ancestral homes of England, whence some of them were secretly sold when the owners could no longer withstand the tempting prices offered. In at least one gallery their places in the old frame were filled with clever copies. England undoubtedly has more real Rembrandts than she knows, for the tide of Rembrandts set strongly about her shores for many a long year. Dr. Hofstede de Groot suggests that there is a flotsam and jetsam yet to be discovered; for in a recent publication he tells of the finding, in the bedroom of an English country house, of no fewer than four hitherto unknown Rembrandts and of the discovery of others in the possession of Earl Howe. One of the last collection has already crossed the Atlantic. It will cause no surprise if the others should drift the same way, for without doubt the current now sets toward America.

One 88 paintings represent in a remarkable manner the working years of the master, ranging from his youth to his old age. Of 31 working years between youth and old age, 34 are represented by these paintings. Of 1622, the great year of "The Lesson in Anatomy," we have nine canvases. Many of the other years are represented by two or three or four or five paintings. There are 51 signed, and 46 are also dated. Almost all the others carry with assurance be assigned to their respective years.

The tendency to gather Rembrandt's work into public galleries is an encouraging sign of the times. About 43 per cent of his known paintings are now thus protected. For them the danger of being further hawked about the world for the highest bid is past. Of the European nations rich in Rembrandts, Great Britain, the richest, has the fewest behind the strong doors of her museums. Since one third of her wealth in Rembrandts is not thus protected, her "apolitization" is likely to continue for years to come. France makes a better showing. She has two-fifths of her paintings in safe keeping. Russia possesses only 54 Rembrandts, yet, to her everlasting credit, 43 are in public galleries. Germany's record is, however, even more commendable, for of her 120 paintings by Rembrandt, 93 are permanently on "exhibition, not crowded into a nameless gallery, as are forty of Russia's, but well scattered throughout the empire.—Century.

RAILROADS END RATE EVIDENCE

SHIPPERS ASK CONTINUANCE UNTIL NOVEMBER 15.

Shippers Decline It Would Be Fitter to Present Evidence to Railroad Commission.

RAILROADS OPPOSING THIS

Chicago, Sept. 30.—The railroads concluded the presentations of evidence in the rate hearing today and the Interstate Commerce Commission adjourned without date.

The parties directly interested in the case were unable to agree on a date for resumption of the hearing and the matter was left to the commission.

The shippers asked for a continuance until the middle of November. The railroads wanted the shippers to begin the presentation of their side of the case next week.

In order, he said, to get it into the record, Attorney Kust, representing the Illinois Manufacturers' association, made a motion that the commission permanently suspend the proposed advances in rates. Commissioner Clark replied that the commission had not the power to do so.

The shippers declared that it would be opposition to delay.

"Witness after witness," he said, "has stated that the rates in question here are not the only ones that roads seek to advance. This is merely a test case. The proposed advances really mean an additional burden on the shipper of $100,000,000 a year. It is the biggest finanwhat seems to be a professional visit. She is really curious to see what has become of her estranged husband and if possible to effect a reconciliation. Her anxiety for the accomplishment of this end is heightened particularly by the fact that there is a daughter who has been with the father ever since the separation.

"The Gallies which Misson and Thurner injected dramatically into this family group was to make the daughter's admirer fall madly in love with the mother. There you have a situation with the true boulevarder and one which created something of a sensation when the play was produced in Paris."

Miss Anglin's Play.

The Louisville Times tells the story of the dramatized "Awakening of Helena Richle" as follows:

"A house that was large downstairs greeted Margaret Anglin in her new play, 'The Awakening of Helena Richle,' at Macaulay's last night, opening a week's engagement. In contrast with the previous two offerings at this playhouse, the play is a serious drama of the problem character. Helena's awakening is, of course, of the moral nature. The play is constructed along conventional lines. The four acts and scenes are laid in Helena Richle's house in the village of Old Chester, Pa., where she is 'hiding' from the world, the better to keep up her unconventional relations with Lloyd Pryor, who in his visits poses as her brother. Except for the intrusion of well-meaning neighbors and certain tugs of the conscience inseparable from her position, she appears to be reasonably well satisfied until the awakening comes, mainly through a child that has been forced upon her care by dear old Dr. Laven-endar, the spiritual leader of the community. However, the awakening doesn't really come until the man in the case has disappointed her expectations of making her his wife. When cornered, he yields reluctantly to her entreaties, but imposes the condition that she give up the boy. This she refuses. Then comes exposure of her irregular life, and she is threatened with the loss of the boy on that account, but in the end her awakening appears to have been complete and Dr. Laven-endar allows her to keep the child.

"The entire sympathy of the story revolves around the love of the woman for the boy and its regenerating influence upon her."

Miss Lipman's Play.

The Chicago Evening Post thus tells the story of "The Marriage of a Star," in which Miss Clara Lipman will be seen at the Kentucky theater Tuesday night, direct from her run at the Princess theater, Chicago:

"Miss Clara Lipman, now to be seen in 'The Marriage of a Star' at the Princess theater, is much better than her play. She exhibits quality as a comedienne that will delight anyone who likes to see good netting.

"The Marriage of a Star" has been fortunate in falling into the hands of a skillful adapter—Mr. Frederik Donaghey—who has made a great deal of the material given into his hands. But the play is not one that has any particular appeal for American audiences.

"There is a main situation of Gallie cleverness, of which something of the sort has been much aired recently in the public prints. A French actress, long separated from her American husband for the apparent good of her career, after several years comes to America on

In the latter part of October the colonel is to go to Massachusetts to help Senator Lodge with a campaign speech and to New Hampshire to speak for Robert Taft. This trip probably will be made on Oct. 21 and 22. Early in November he is to start for Iowa to make two campaign speeches just before election. He also has promised to go to Illinois, N. Y., for a day or four of abandoned farms.

With these journeys to make, in addition to his campaign speech, which will carry him all over his own state, Col. Roosevelt expects to have a fairly busy time of it until after election.

At his office in New York tomorrow the colonel will hold some conferences to lay the first plans for the campaign.

Expense Accounts.

New York, Sept. 30.—John P. Hannon came to town this morning over the second national convention of the national convention of the National Republican League in Carnegie Hall, where Col. Roosevelt is to speak tomorrow. Mr. Hannon said the league would have a thousand delegates from all over the country.

"The trouble with Taft's administration," he said, "is that he has refused to play pothouse politics. He doesn't do his talking until his egg is hatched.

"The people will see the value of such a man in time and I don't think there's a doubt of Taft's reelection."

Left Starts Economy Board.
Washington, Sept. 30.—Frederick A. Cleveland, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research in New York City, has been selected by President Taft to head the force of experts who will attempt to work out of economy in the extent to departments. Mr. Cleveland will have a bureau and be assisted by four or five expert business men, who in a general way will investigate a long line of economy. Mr. Cleveland and the other experts will report directly to the president. They will co-operate, however, with commissions in the several departments. The expenses of the bureau of experts will be met from the $100,000 appropriated by congress last session for reorganizing the departments.
